BROWNING

Browning. One word, eight letters, so many different meanings.
 For some, Browning means days spent crossing fields with the family; for others,
 Browning means exhilarating victory at a sports-shooting competition.
 For you, Browning might be the moment your heart goes into overdrive as the king of the forest comes into view through your scope.
 Others still see Browning as a pleasant afternoon shooting clays with friends.
 Browning is a word that has as many meanings as it has fans.

Our new products for 2020 aim to be the same: varied, satisfying the needs of all those who don't compromise on performance.

One year on from its double world championship victory in FITASC Compak and Compak Sporting, Browning is giving its two world-title winning shotguns a new look.

The Ultra XS Pro Exquisite features outstanding engravings, while the new B725 Sporter is even more ergonomic than before.
 We've also thought of hunters of small game, who will find that the peerlessly elegant B725 Grade 5 Combo comes with two barrel sets that are sure to impress when hunting or on the range.

Among the rifled guns to look out for is the new X-Bolt SF Max Varmint bolt-action, which features a stock designed by our R&D department that gives you unrivalled shooting comfort.
 Fans of fine wood will be won over by the Maral SF Platinum.

Browning's legend may have been forged from the steel of its barrels, its reputation carved from the wood of its stocks, but we also specialise in fabrics.
 In 2020, we are bringing out no fewer than four ranges of sports-shooting vest and two hunting outfits!

Looking at optics, Browning's partner brand Kite Optics also has two major new releases!

The first is a world exclusive - the new Stabi APC stabilized-image binoculars, which correct image stability by 3° compared to the 0.5° to 1° of rival products!

Turning to gun scopes, the K6 range replaces the KSP HD2 range.

The design and ergonomics have been improved, but the optical and mechanical performances are as excellent as ever.

On behalf of all the team at Browning, I would again like to wish you an excellent year of hunting and shooting!

Adrien Koutny

John M. Browning

Another two world championship titles have been added to the 550 FITASC medals won by Browning since 2009. Sam Green, a big fan of the brand, is the new FITASC world Sporting Clays champion. Sam tells us why his ties with Browning are as solid as his Ultra XS Pro.

SAM GREEN

 @samgreenshooting

"How did I become world champion? With perseverance, determination and my Ultra XS. I've been using this gun every day for 4 years. It's the gun I use to hunt pigeons, rabbits and crows. Despite the fact I fire off 15,000 rounds a year, I've never had to change the wear parts in 4 years. Only Browning gives you that kind of reliability. I trust my gun completely, which means I can focus on my target: winning."

Browning shotguns build their reputation for excellence with every passing decade and every shot fired. The heirs to the legendary B25 and the mythical Auto-5 are effective, elegant and reliable: all the qualities you demand when shooting small game.

JAY RUSSEL

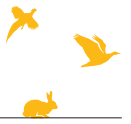

"I fell in love with Browning over 30 years ago. I was a boy scout and had the chance to fire a gun for the first time in my life during a clay pigeon shoot. I remember being handed an old semi-automatic shotgun. I remember staring at the engraving of a dog. I can still see that engraving when I close my eyes. Someone shouted "Pull" and I pulled the trigger. That was my first shot, and I hit the clay! Later, I learned that the gun was a Browning Auto-5 and its owner's pride and joy. Since then, I dream of having a Browning."

The Maxus is a reference for waterfowlers everywhere. Its notably low recoil, user comfort and ability to fire a wide variety of shells make it a reference in the field. This new version features a composite stock and an engraving that leaves no doubt about the quarry it is made to hunt.

LE MAXUS, THE BEST CHOICE THERE IS

End users are often at a loss when faced with the abundance of semi-auto shotguns that are available. The first question is, should they go for a gas-operated or inertia-operated reloading system?

If they opt for the gas-operated system, there are a number of reasons that make the Maxus the natural first choice for sports shooters and hunters:

- Unrivalled shooting comfort: its Power Drive gas system can fire 24 to 64 g loads. But that's not all the Power Drive system has to offer! When combined with the Inflex recoil pad and the Back Bored Vector Pro barrel, it also reduces felt recoil by 18% on average. The low recoil means you can make your follow-up shot in an instant, making the semi-automatic shotgun with the softest recoil on the market one of the fastest, too.
- Unique innovation: the Maxus is the only semi-automatic shotgun on the market with Browning's proprietary "Speed Load Plus" system, which chambers the first round straight from the magazine without having to run the bolt. Unloading is just as quick, and you can use the time you save to take another shot!
- Ultra-high performance trigger: the "Lightning trigger" on the Maxus is the best one ever designed for a semi-automatic shotgun. With a lock time averaging 0.0052 seconds, the Lightning trigger system is 24% faster than like-for-like rival semi-automatic shotguns.

Still not convinced?

But my favourite is the X-Bolt Pro Carbon in 308Win: a featherweight gun that is ideal when stalking for hours, in Sweden and elsewhere."

DOUBLE BEDDING: THE FEATURE THAT IS SPOT-ON

The barrels on X-Bolt rifles are double bedded: an obscure term that describes an essential process.

The barrel/receiver assembly is mated to the forestock by epoxy at two points: one in front of the receiver and one at the rear. This process is performed manually and is specific to the X-Bolts. The result is that vibrations in the stock do not upset ballistic performance and our floating barrels fire with above-average accuracy.

Why are we the only manufacturers to do this?

Because we are not afraid of longer manufacturing times and higher production costs to bring our customers the best there is.

At Browning, each item of clothing starts from a passion for the hunt, our years of experience and field tests, and the expertise that all this brings. We combine high-performance materials with cutting-edge technology to offer full body protection against the wind, rain and cold, as well as thorny thickets and bramble bushes. While our clothing is tough enough to resist any challenge, it is also comfortable for hunters. The supple materials we use adapt to any body shape, making our hard-wearing yet elegant clothes more efficient as well.

"I really like the technical features on Browning's huntwear. The Hell's Canyon outfit lives right up to my expectations. Like a lot of other outfits, it has lots of pockets. But that isn't where its strength lies. In autumn, the forest is wet in the morning and the temperature rises in the afternoon. I've always avoided garments with membranes for various reasons. Hell's Canyon doesn't have any membranes, but is water repellent. It's a stalking range that is just as effective and comfortable in wet or dry weather."
